

Science Communication Workshop Series 2021-2022

Penn Science Policy and Diplomacy Group presents the 2021-2022 Science Communication Workshop Series, designed to educate the scientific community on how to communicate their work to all audiences.

Presentation Skills

How to create memorable presentations

Scientific Writing

How to write successful manuscripts and grants

Data Visualization

How to design effective and clear graphics

Videos

How to create informative and engaging videos

Social Media

How to use novel tools for science communication

Podcasts

How to start or appear on a science podcast

Scientific Comedy

How to show your audience the fun side of science

You can earn a Certificate of Completion by completing 5 out of the 7 workshops and their take-home assignments.

Sign up to receive updates!